

Randolph County Youth Livestock Judging Clinic and Contest June 16, 2017

This educational event is open to all youth in the State of Missouri that want to learn more about livestock evaluation and practice their skills with a full contest following clinical classroom instruction. The clinic will be led by experienced livestock coaches and teachers. Following the clinic a contest with beef cattle, swine, meat goats, and sheep will be held. Participants will judge classes and give two sets of reasons. While the contest is being scored, officials will talk each class and answer questions. Registration is $10 per youth and includes drinks, snacks, and pizza. Prizes will be awarded in a variety of areas and age groups.

Registration deadline is June 10, 2017 and will be handled by county code (via judgingcard.com) through your local 4-H Extension office or your FFA Advisor.
